Know Your Neighbor Series Reveals Best of Region

BRAC legislation resulted in many new faces and Families at Fort Lee. Thanks to a new series in the Fort Lee Traveller, these newcomers are getting acquainted with their fresh surroundings.

The 'Know Your Neighbor' series reveals the region's treasures and enlightens readers about what is available just off the installation. The result of the series is a renewed love of community for the old-timers here and a sense of familiarity as newcomers turn into locals.

The Traveller has already featured articles on Chesterfield County, Colonial Heights, Hopewell, Petersburg, and Prince George County. Dinwiddie County is set to be featured in the Traveller's Sept. 20 edition.

Run for the Fallen Set for September 15

6,000 service members have died in Iraq and Afghanistan since the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001. Their loss is greatly felt across the Army, and their sacrifice and that of their families is not forgotten.

Fort Lee will host a Run for the Fallen on Sept. 15 at Williams Stadium to honor these men and women and the families who grieve for loved ones lost while giving their last full measure in service to this nation.

Fort Lee invites the public to participate in the free event by walking, running or rolling a one or five mile route. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. and the event begins at 10 a.m. Each mile that participants run, walk or roll in honor of fallen service members will be reported to the national initiative. For more details, call 734-6446, 765-7636 or visit www.leemwr.com and click on Army Community Services.
